Official ASIC Member, Your Global Network of Inspection and Analytical Services.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I am pleased to announce that the Alex Stewart International network of over 40 offices and 20 laboratories, in co-operation with other Alex Stewart companies, continues to provide inspection and analytical services to the industry.

As a long established name, with a heritage and reputation that is synonymous with a unique technical competence and experienced, friendly customer service, we will continue to certify for quantity and quality in what is every day more and more a people's business.

Today, I would like to personally reassure all of our customers that it is our mission to maintain these core values and traditions.
