EXITING LOCKDOWN

ALEX STEWART INTERNATIONAL would like to update our Customers that we are continuing to provide Internationally accredited services in these difficult times, for both Cargo Supervision, Inspections and Analysis. We are fortunate to be able to operate without significant interruption in most Countries and we are well positioned to advise, help and coordinate on behalf of any Companies and Clients that are getting back to work and planning to get their business restarted and ease out of lock down by letting us take care of the Inspection, Weighing and Sampling of your cargoes and shipments whilst you and your company come to terms with its new circumstances within the Commodities Sectors and its position in the Global Economy.

Please do not hesitate to contact us for any Inspection, Weighing, Sampling and Analysis enquiry; our laboratories and Customer Services are fully operational and we will work hard to deliver your reports and results in a timely fashion. You can rest assured that we will do everything possible to take good care of all your business to business requirements. Inspection Operations are working safely and mainly at normal service levels, our Inspections Teams are able to co-ordinate any new nominations as we all look positively to the future and head towards a return to a more stable trading environment. We remain contingent with all Alex Stewart International Offices in communication with all Major Industrial Sectors, Governmental, Regional and Local Authorities to monitor and advise on new developments at all Global Ports, Warehouses and Refineries in Countries wherever you may need representation.

For any new Inspection or Analysis business enquiry, please contact our Country Managers, all of our key people will be pleased to help and support your needs as and when you head Back to Business...
